1965

Yelm High School
Yelm, Washington

Foreword

Every step of progress which the world has made has been from scaffold to scaffold. . .

As the architect with his skill and dreams and compass and tools of his trade has drawn plans, the blueprints of our buildings, and the contractors and workers have given them form and substance; so the buildings are tools to be used in drawing plans, the blueprints of life and careers which only we can give form and substance.

Richard Bernards

He dreamed of a new, larger, more efficient science department; He advanced his education that he might offer more to his students; he has worked tirelessly to inspire these students to fulfill their capabilities.

In testimony of our gratitude for his dreams, his enthusiasm, his untiring efforts, his friendship, we, the class of 1965, do humbly dedicate this annual.

ADMINI

New equipment and new programs provide students with the opportunity for quality education. A glimpse into various departments will show Miss Fairbanks talking into a dictaphone, Mr. Bouton manning the controls on the new language lab, Mr. Bernard's setting switches on the climatorium, Miss Peffer administering a physical fitness test to the girls' P.E. classes and Mr. Rawls watching the buttons flash on the new computer. Students are seen pouring over their new report cards and pouring out their gripes and laying plans for school improvement in the student seminars.

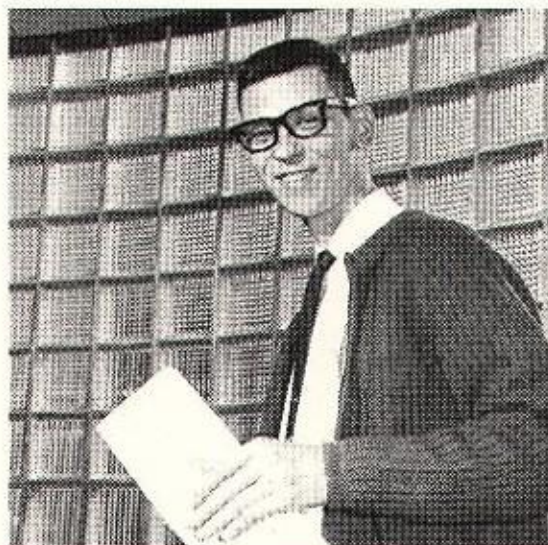

STRATION

I didn't do it! Miss Pfeffer

CLASSES

Freshmen

Bewilderment best describes a freshman's life at Yelm High for the first few days. The continual hustle of upperclassmen, the maze of new faces, and the difficulty in finding the correct rooms, all combine to make a freshman's first week rather hectic.

Finally, though, things work into a routine, new friends are met, programs are stabilized and the freshmen find themselves full-fledged YHS'ers.

Sophomores

The comedy of wandering lost through the halls is now in the past as the sophomores begin a new year.

They have taken another step up the ladder of life. . .the first steps have already been taken but two years remain before them at Yelm, that are as yet unexplored.

Juniors

The return of the Juniors in the fall brings a new sense of independence but also waiting for them are many jobs and responsibilities. Although enjoying the present they must prepare for the future with the tests which challenge both their knowledge and understanding.

Seniors

It is the beginning of the end when orders for caps and gowns and announcements are taken; when graduation pictures are given out and thoughts are turned to. . .graduation. . .one of the most important events in our lives. And yet, it is not the end but a beginning, for college, jobs, and marriage lie ahead.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Muriel Pierce, Secretary; Doug Brewster, Treasurer; Tom Turner, President; Sterling Jones, Vice President; Dennis Manley, Sergeant-at-Arms; Marilyn Mosman, Student Council Representative; Ken Austin, Student Council Representative

We Challenge the World . . .

FRESHMEN YEAR: Noted for being the peppiest class to ever enter high school, we charged into every activity and contest the school had to offer, emerging with a win nearly every time. We "hully-gullied" with pointed shoes, "A" skirts, and matching mohair sweater at our Freshmen dance "Century 21", and delighted in covering our Pee Chees with names.

When the town added the dog foodplant and Johnson's corner Grocery, we added to our fads: ratted hair, pale lipstick, and different colored fingemil polish.

SOPHOMORE YEAR: The first Homecoming Parade in the history of Yelm was a huge success with our Sophomore float walking away with top honors.

The class danced the "Monster Mash" with the boys in short pegged pants and the girls wearing cutoffs and sweat-shirts with tenny runners to match. At our class dance, "Father Time Frolics", the boys were seen wearing slim ties, round tie tacks and blazers. Everyday wear for the girls slanted towards wrap-around skirts and shifts.

JUNIOR YEAR: Do you remember the elephant jokes? This is one that stumped many teachers:

Q. Why did the elephant wear red tenny runners?

A. Because his white tenny runners were dirty.

In their turtle-necked T-shirts the boys called each other Clyde, Clod, Fern, and Ratfink as they passed each other in the hall. Pizza and Coke was "gooder, neater, and all thater" with ski jackets the thing. Highlighting our junior year was our Junior-Senior ball, "Isle of Capri".

In skirts with suspenders, and stacked heels the girls with their dates went to Burger Jim's--the first drive-in cafe ever to open in Yelm--and swapped more elephant jokes.

Our junior year ended progressively with a new bank in Yelm and construction on the new buildings begun.

SENIOR YEAR: We began our Senior year with new spirit which could only mean a season of victory for our football team who rated a second place standing in the League.

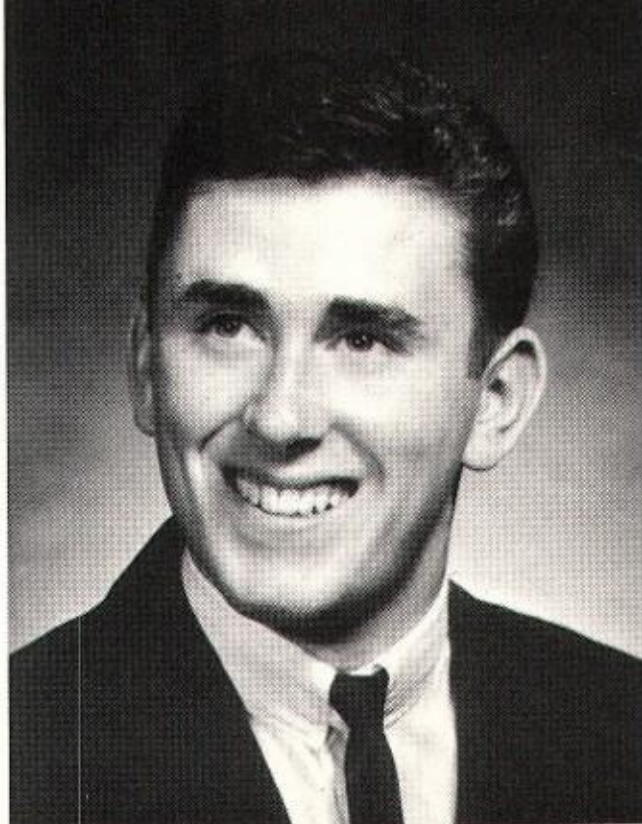

Having such fads as: Beatlemania, big bows, flavored lipstick, textured nylons, the "Jerk", and such expressions as: too bad, you lose, bad scene, raunchy, and kabash, our senior year was called to an end.

With all those memories behind us, we challenge the world to defeat a class such as this.

Among the highlights of the year for the Class of '66 was the ordering and receiving of the long awaited class rings. The Juniors gave their class dance in January.

Closing the year was the formal Junior - Senior Ball.

Sophomore Class

The Sophomore Class bounded to a jubilant start, taking first place in the Homecoming parade with their float, "We Don't Need Witchcraft To Win - We Play Clean."

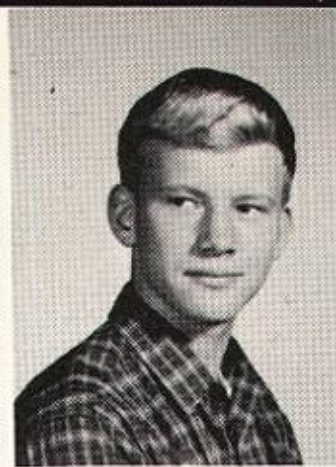

A new Chevrolet with an automatic transmission donated for the beginning drivers, saw much use as the sophomores fulfilled their requirement of Drivers Education.

Freshmen Class

The Class of '68 was the first class not to enjoy the traditional initiation. In the Homecoming activities the class members participated with great enthusiasm to take the Humorous Award with their float, "We're Brewing Up A Victory."

Biology was offered for the first time to the incoming Freshmen. World Geography also stepped in to replace Orientation, making another change in the Freshmen curriculum.

AC

Extra curricular activities are an essence of high school life. They help you to know your classmates better and teach you to work well with a variety of people. They provide relaxation from the cares and strains of the class room and help you to explore fields of special interest.

Every activity has its own merits. Some, such as drill team, basketball, football, track, and baseball, teach you teamwork, precision, and poise. Others teach you skills, vocations, and develop special talents. Examples of these are FFA, FHA, and Science-Photo Club. Still others work for the good of the school. Some of these are Service Club, Pep Club, Y Club, library, and cafeteria.

Some of the clubs and activities at Yelm are so old they are almost traditions, others are new and just getting started. But whether they are old or new, they provide variety, fun, and friendship in the life of a Yelm high school student.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council is the elected judicial body of the High School. The purpose, however, is not merely to judge and make rules, but rather to represent the ideas of the student body in a democratic manner.

The members of the Council have laid the foundation for future teacher-student council-student cooperation. This is being done through the creation of bi-monthly discussion groups involving the entire student body.

Honor Society Recognizes Scholarship, Service

HONOR SOCIETY

Scholarship, service, leadership, and character are the requirements for membership in National Honor Society. Members must maintain at least a 3.00 average to remain in good standing.

An Honor Society Banquet is held each year to initiate new members and to present them with the basic ideas of this organization.

In addition, the graduating members of Honor Society are provided with honor cords and seals.

SCIENCE-PHOTO CLUB

To encourage scientific interests and to give practical experience to student photographers are the aims of the Science-Photo Club.

On the agenda was the annual Science-Photo Club dance, a fund-raising car wash, with the proceeds to be used for purchasing a new rock cutting and polishing shop, and an educational field trip around the Olympic Peninsula.

Past queens honored in Homecoming Parade.

Queen Ruby Reigns

Even Witchcraft couldn't have made this homecoming a more successful one. The events began with the selection of homecoming princesses and their escorts.

Homecoming was held on October 30, with a Halloween theme being chosen. Much work went into the many floats, with the Sophomores winning the prize with the theme "We Don't Need Witchcraft to Win," and the Seniors taking second place with "The Cruisers Don't Have a Ghost of a Chance."

The game was held that evening with Yelm hosting Eatonville. At half-time Ruby Hull was crowned homecoming queen. The dance, "Black Magic," was held after the game.

Drill Team

"Attention!" commands Linda Drewry, leader of the Yelm High Tornadoettes, as the group makes its entrance at half time in red uniforms with white gloves and white boots.

Miss Lou-Ellen Pheffer, drill team instructor, who will be remembered for her favorite saying "Can the chatter," sits watching nervously.

The thirty-two members in drill team who perform at football games are divided into two groups of sixteen and alternate at the basketball games.

Drill team assists the athletic department in giving the public varied entertainment, but it does more, it encourages friendly relationships among the girls and with other schools.

Annual Staff Strives For New Look

Annual Staff

The annual staff worked to achieve a new look in layout and content in the '65 Tornado, even as the new buildings gave our campus a new look.

For the first time, the majority of the copy was written by a number of students who were acquainted with the particular area on which they wrote. The Senior Class made the dedication choice for another first.

Muriel Pierce and Penny Noonan, editors, aided by a large number of seniors, the junior representatives, copy editors, the business manager, and the photographers, under the guidance of advisor Miss Fairbanks, worked many long hours to make the 1965 Tornado a reality.

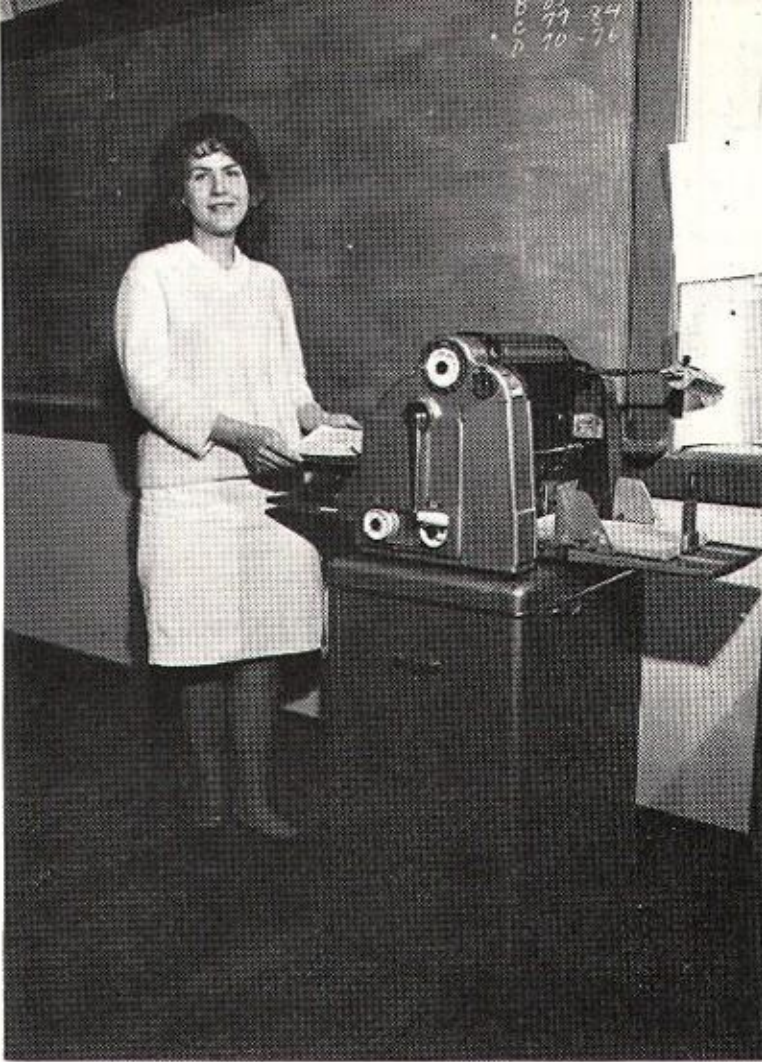

Muriel Pierce, Penny Noonan

TORNADO NEWS

The school paper, the TORNADO NEWS, a member of the Pacific Slope School Press, was published by the journalism class this year.

Under the direction of Editor Faye Baker and Advisor Miss Fairbanks, the paper was printed during the second semester on the new multilith machine. This gave the staff more experience.

Three regular features that appeared in the TORNADO NEWS this year were "Fads And Fashions" by Peggy Eller, "Dean Anny" by Jane Streeter and Terry Wareing, and "Through The Pillars With Plato" by Jim Gump.

FHA

Future Homemakers of America is a national organization composed of all High School girls who are interested in furthering their knowledge in the field of homemaking. The objective this year was "contributing to the joys and satisfactions of family living." The club's flower is the rose and the colors are red and white. The motto this year was Spizzerinktum, which means to create enthusiasm.

At the joint FHA-FFA dance Pat Welch was crowned "Our Hero". In the homecoming parade the FHA float took top award in the division of clubs. The advisor was Miss Peoples and chapter mothers were Mrs. Robert Ellis, Mrs. Vernon Horst, and Mrs. Sam Stewart. Officers were Linda Ellis, President; DeAnn Gibson, Vice-President; Jennie Rosano, Secretary; Faye Baker, Treasurer; Kathy Larson, Photographer; Penny Noonan, Historian; Geri Brown, Social Service Chairman; Marjorie Morris, Song Leader; Beverly Manley, Degrees Chairman, Elaine Stewart, Reporter; and Margaret Horst, Parliamentarian.

FFA

The Future Farmers of America is a National Organization for boys that strives to develop scholarship, leadership, character and financial independence among its members.

Successful fund raising projects of the year included a candy sale and various scrap metal drives.

Social Activities included a ski trip, the parents and sons banquet and the joint dance with the Future Homemakers of America, at which Earlene Herness was announced as Chapter Sweetheart.

Officers of the club were Pat Welch, President; Jack Kominski, Vice President; Bernie Kowalski, Secretary; David Playford, Treasurer; Jerry Cowles, reporter; and Jack Doleman, Sentinel.

THESPIANS

The curtain rose on "Arsenic and Old Lace," the Thespians' first production of this year. This proved to be a very successful "undertaking."

Peggy Eller, Andy Rieke, Dave Steggell, DeAnn Gibson, Jenny Murphy, and Lynn Yenne almost "died" as they were tapped for membership in National Thespians, composed of Thespians who have earned ten points and have been voted in by the current members. Points are earned by toiling in the "morgue" . . . rather, by working on drama-related projects.

Masquers is our local Thespian honorary. Membership is limited. The members are tapped after each play and the choice is based on the individual's contribution to Thespians.

SP

The athletic year at Yelm has been marked by many significant events. The football season was notable for bitter disappointments as well as fulfilling victories. Perhaps our biggest victory was over White Pass, the first place team; and, surely, our biggest disappointment was missing a tie for first place by one game . . . a forfeit to Rochester.

Our basketball team is to be admired for their fighting spirit. This spirit was shown, when after losing thirteen games, the team came back to win two in a row.

This fighting spirit to win was carried through into the spring sports with our tennis, track, and baseball teams.

We can all be proud of the spirit our teams showed and for the example they set for others to follow. We are able to look back on the athletic teams of 1964-65 with pride and a sense of accomplishment.
